REYMAN E MAIL REPORT – 16 MAY 2008

This is Karen in sunny and cool Alberton, South Africa. The leaves are almost gone from our only tree so winter is coming.

TRIP TO ZIMBABWE

Our trip to Bulawayo, Zimbabwe, from the 28th of April to the 8th of May went well. Instead of going through the busy Bietbridge border, we went through Botswana. Even though that meant two border posts instead of one, the borders were much easier and about the same amount of time in traveling.

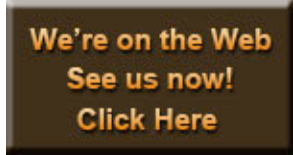

Our goals were to research and plan the orchard to be planted at the Khayelihle Children's Village farm and to make plans for a guest cottage at the farm. We also worked in the clothes storage room and were able to attend church at the KCV church. The Farewell Avenue Christian Church in Fairbanks, Alaska, donated money for school shoes and we were able to take them to the children. We met the five new children and talked with the other sixty-four children now living there.

The political situation in Zimbabwe after the election on March 29th is still not resolved. The economic situation worsens each day. We were dealing in billions of dollars, which was mind-boggling. The US dollar while we were there was worth 100 million Zimbabwe dollars. It is worth more now. The people of Zimbabwe need our prayers.

TIGANE CHURCH

Building at Tigane to Resume

Funds have been donated to continue work on the minister's house at Tigane so Paul will once again travel to Tigane each Tuesday to organize the building materials and check on the progress of the building. The house will be used for church services until the church building is built.

NEW SONG WORKSHOP

In the past I have traveled to Kimberly to teach an intensive course at SABI (South Africa Bible Institute) for two weeks. But due to scheduling I will not be able to travel this year. So two of the instructors will be coming to Alberton on Saturday and Sunday, May 17th and 18th, and I will teach them the course so they can teach the students. The worship course deals with different areas of worship and focuses on how to compose worship songs in the student's indigenous languages.

FAMILY FOOTNOTES

We are excited that Laurie, our daughter, will be visiting us on her way to Tanzania for a month long project she is involved in with her school, University of Georgia. She will come through on the 23rd of May and be in Tanzania for a month. Then visit us again for about ten days on her way back to the USA.

Other visitors coming next week are Karen and Isaac Barringer, son of Jeff and Debbie Barringer. The Barringer family was missionaries in Zimbabwe for many years and the Barringers kids are like relatives to us. So we are excited to have them come also.
